Introduction

Chic Diary is a digital fashion accessory brand offering affordable, aesthetic, and trend-driven products for young consumers. It specializes in items like scrunchies, bracelets, and mobile charms, often curated in stylish bundles. The brand targets Gen Z and young millennials through social media-focused marketing. With an emphasis on visual appeal and personalisation, Chic Diary enables customers to express their unique style. It aims to position itself as a go-to platform for everyday fashion accessories.

Week 1: Research and Campaign Planning

1. Market Research

Target Audience:

The target audience for Chic Diary includes individuals aged 18–40 who are active on social media. They are interested in fashion, aesthetic styling, and trendy accessories. They prefer affordable, stylish products and engage with visual content like reels and posts.

Competitor Analysis:

The main competitors of Chic Diary include Instagram-based accessory brands such as Scrunchiedotcom, charms_by_neha, bloom_loops_2401, beads_by_noor56, and scrunchies.home1. These brands offer trendy and aesthetic products, but are often priced higher compared to Chic Diary.

They actively operate on Instagram, Facebook, and TikTok, using reels, short videos, and influencer-driven content to attract customers.

In contrast, Chic Diary follows a value-driven strategy by offering similar trendy accessories at more affordable prices, making it more accessible to budget-conscious consumers.

Additionally, platforms like Pinterest influence trends and customer preferences, indirectly impacting all brands in this segment.

Marketing Channels:

Key Marketing Channels – Chic Diary

The campaign will utilize multiple digital marketing channels to effectively reach and engage the target audience.

1) Instagram:

Primary platform for sharing aesthetic posts, reels, and stories to attract and engage users.

2) Facebook:

Used for targeted advertising, promotions, and reaching a wider audience.

3) TikTok:

Focused on short-form videos to create viral content and boost brand visibility.

4) Google Ads:

Used for paid campaigns to drive traffic and reach potential customers actively searching for similar products.

5) YouTube:

Used for tutorials and short videos to showcase styling ideas and product usage.

6) Pinterest:

Used for aesthetic inspiration and trend-based content to attract and influence potential customers.

Conclusion:

These channels are selected based on their strong visual appeal, high engagement potential, and effectiveness in promoting fashion accessories to the target audience.

2. Campaign Goal Setting – Chic Diary

SMART Goals (across all platforms):

The campaign goals are defined using the SMART framework to ensure they are Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Time-bound. This will help to:

- Increase brand awareness by reaching at least 1,000–3,000 users within 3 weeks.
- Achieve a 20–25% increase in engagement rate across social media platforms.
- Gain 100–200 new followers during the campaign period.
- Generate at least 150–200 clicks on promotional content.

This approach is expected to drive 80–150 potential customers, ultimately supporting increased orders and overall sales growth for Chic Diary.

Key Performance Indicators (KPIs):

Chic Diary uses a set of platform-specific KPIs to track and evaluate the effectiveness of its digital marketing campaigns:

Instagram & Facebook

- Reach: Number of users who see posts and ads
- Engagement: Likes, comments, shares, and saves
- Impressions: Total times content is displayed
- Follower Growth: Increase in page followers
- Clicks: Users clicking on links or profile
- Conversions: Orders or inquiries generated

TikTok

- Views: Total video views
- Engagement: Likes, comments, shares
- Completion Rate: Percentage of videos watched fully
- Follower Growth: Increase in followers
- Shares: Content virality

YouTube

- Views: Video views for tutorials and shorts
- Watch Time: Total time spent watching content
- Subscribers Growth: Increase in channel subscribers
- Engagement: Likes, comments, and shares
- Click-Through Rate (CTR): Clicks on video links or descriptions

Pinterest

- Impressions: Number of times pins are displayed
- Saves: Pins saved by users
- Pin Clicks: Traffic directed to profile or product pages
- Engagement Rate: Interactions with pins
- Monthly Viewers: Audience reach growth

These KPIs allow Chic Diary to measure campaign performance, optimize content, and maximize engagement and conversions across all digital platforms.

3. Content Strategy:

Content Strategy – Chic Diary

Chic Diary plans to use a variety of content types in the future to engage its audience and achieve campaign objectives, including social media posts, reels, carousel posts, blog posts, emails, and paid advertisements.

- Instagram, Facebook, and TikTok: Visual content like posts and reels will be used to attract attention, increase reach, and drive engagement quickly. Carousel posts can showcase product bundles or styling tips and encourage interaction.
- Blog Posts & Emails: These will provide detailed information, styling guides, and accessory tips to help customers understand product benefits and build a stronger connection with the brand.
- Paid Advertisements: Targeted ads with strong call-to-actions will be used to drive purchases or website visits and generate measurable results.

By implementing this combination of content types across multiple platforms in the future, Chic Diary aims to maximize reach, engagement, and conversions.

Week 2: Content Creation and Campaign Execution

1. Content Creation:

- 5 social media posts:

Text Based

Video Based

Visual Based

Carousel Based

Ad Creatives (Using Canva):

Blog Post:

Schedule and publish content on Social Platforms Using Buffer:

Launch a small-budget ad campaign:

3-Engagement:

Respond to comments, messages, or inquiries from potential users.

Week 3: Performance Analysis and Optimization:

1. Campaign Performance Monitoring Using MetaSuite:

Analyze metrics (Mostly Mockdata used):

Metric	Data	Formula	Result	Insight
Click-Through Rate (CTR)	Impressions: 5,000 Clicks: 180	$(\text{Clicks} \div \text{Impressions}) \times 100$	3.6%	Indicates good interest and effective ad creatives
Engagement Rate	Engagements: 1,050 Reach: 4,200	$(\text{Engagements} \div \text{Reach}) \times 100$	25%	Shows strong audience interaction and appealing content
Return on Investment (ROI)	Cost: Rs. 2,000 Revenue: Rs. 6,000	$[(\text{Revenue} - \text{Cost}) \div \text{Cost}] \times 100$	200%	Demonstrates high profitability and cost efficiency

2. Optimization

Identify underperforming content or ads and suggest improvements.

Underperforming Content Identified:

The “New Arrival” static post underperformed due to the following gaps:

- No price mentioned, creating hesitation in purchase decision
- Only an arrow button for contact, which is unclear and not compelling
- No background music or motion (low attention capture)
- Limited engagement (likes, comments, shares)

Insight:

Customers prefer clear information (price + value) and a direct call-to-action, rather than vague indicators like arrows.

Suggested Improvements:

To enhance performance and align with a conversion-driven strategy:

- Clearly display price (e.g., “Only Rs. 200 🌸”) to build trust and transparency
- Replace the arrow with a strong CTA:
 - “DM to Order”
 - “Shop Now”
- Convert static post into a reel with background music for higher reach
- Add text overlays like “Limited Stock”

- Use lifestyle or hand-model visuals instead of plain product display

Conclusion

The post underperformed due to lack of pricing clarity and weak call-to-action. By incorporating clear pricing, strong CTAs, and engaging formats, Chic Diary can significantly improve both engagement and conversions.

A/B Testing Plan – Chic Diary

Objective

To determine which content format (video vs static post) performs better in terms of engagement, reach, and conversions.

Test Setup

Version A: Video Post (Reel)

- Format: Short video (5–10 seconds)
- Content: Showing product (Bracelets)
- Hook: “Upgrade your look in seconds 🌸”
- CTA: “DM to Order”

Version B: Static Post

- Format: Aesthetic flatlay image
- Content: Same product
- Text Overlay: “Only Rs.300 🌸”
- CTA: “Shop Now”

Testing Conditions (Important)

- Post both on Instagram
- Keep the same day and similar time
- Use the same caption, hashtags, and product
- Run for 2–3 days before analyzing

Metrics to Compare

Metric	What to Measure
Reach	Which post reached more people
Engagement	Likes, comments, shares, saves
CTR	Link clicks or profile visits

Metric	What to Measure
Conversions	Orders or DMs received

Expected Insight

- Video (Reel) → Higher reach & engagement
- Static Post → Better for saves & product clarity

Decision Strategy

- If video performs better → Focus more on reels
- If static performs better → Improve visuals & keep posting
- If both perform differently → Use mix strategy
